

OHIO RIVER DISASTER
Steamer Longfellow Wrecked and Sank.FIVE PERSONS WERE DROWNED.During a Dense Fog the Vessel Struck Against a Railroad Bridge Pier and Within Five Minutes Disappeared Beneath the Waters—Twenty-Six People on Board Were Saved.CINCINNATI, March 9.—During a heavy fog yesterday morning, as the steamer Longfellow, belonging to the Cincinnati and Memphis and New Orleans Packet line, was on her way to New Orleans, she lost her course, crashed against a pier of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad bridge and sank within five minutes. Five people were drowned, but 25 others on board were saved. The drowned people were:David Aldridge, Rome, N. Y., passenger;
J. L. Carter, Newport, Ky., clerk; Augustus Chauvel, New Orleans, harkeeper;James Miller, Cincinnati, colored porter;
Unknown, young woman.This is the death list, so far as known, but it will not be complete the list may not be known. All the records of the steamer were lost with it, and no passenger list is ever left ashore. For hours there were rumors of the loss of an invalid young woman from New York, accompanied by a female companion, but the constant absence of the officers of the steamship, and the fact that all the passengers were rescued except Mr. Aldridge, and the statement of the passengers that there was no panic or wild rushing for safety, led to the hope that the rumor was groundless.Late in the afternoon in a portion of the wreckage, which had been landed some distance below the city, there was a young woman who was found. She was wearing a single dress, and a black veil, and about her feet as if she had been in the act of dressing. A small object was in her hand, but it contained nothing to identify her.The accompanying illustrations show four positions which the moon will take with respect to the earth's shadow.
These are exactly an hour apart. The first shows the moon after it has passed entirely into the partial shadow and with the eastern edge just entering the total shadow. An hour later the moon will be entirely covered by the black shadow of the earth, and perhaps continually diminish, whether it will be possible to can be faintly discerned and it begins somewhat on the condition of the earth's atmosphere.The last position shown, which is three hours after the first, is when the moon has emerged partly from the total shadow, but is still veiled in the partial one. These successive phases are to be seen, provided there are no clouds at exactly the same instant of time all parts of the United States. However, owing to the differences in local and standard time as kept in various places, the eclipse will seem to begin at earlier hours in the west than in the east.The admiral was out of pecular horror. It was daylight, but the fog had not disappeared. The great steamer full of passing the bridge, piers, had been in the distance of the powerful tugboat. Captain Carrell, who alone was on the pier, had found himself confronted with an alarming condition. The powerful cross currents, which no human foresight could have foreseen, caught the long steamer like a tug and turned the bow away from the pier he had given it. At the same time the smoke from the long stacks of the vessel began to allow the boat to pass under the bridges, was wholly obscuring his vision.The Hercules Carrell pilot being located almost behind the great steamer, was also unable to see the boat's position, and more likely it was not strong enough to turn it, and it was not the tress herons crease. And the fatal tugboat, which answered like a helpless sheep, the cruel immovable pier and crushed into a wreck. So quick was the work of destruction that in five minutes not a vestige of the great steamer was visible except bits of wreckage floating in the river. The carpenter had time to go into the hold with a lantern, where he quickly returned with the news that the smoke from the long stacks had now made it the most unfriendly looking.The Longfellow was the old U. P. steamship transformed. The old vessel was lengthened 35 feet four years ago and renamed the Longfellow. She was valued at $2,500 and insured for $15, 000. She was carrying 300 tons of freight.

FIRE IN DETROIT.

A Number of Items Burned out, Entailing a Loss of $75,000.Detroit, March 9.—The story and basement structure at the southeast corner of Champlain and Beaumont streets was totally destroyed by fire at midnight with a loss of $75,000. The building was so old and in poor condition, and was occupied by several manufacturing concerns, the principal of which are the Detroit Stamping company, the Detroit Corkscrew company, A. A. Eastwick & Company, manufacturers of dynamos, motors, etc., the Detroit Dynamo company, Erdmann & Company, tinware manufacturers, Joseph M. Smith & Company, etc.The total loss will be upwards of $75,- 000. Most of the walls fell but no one was injured. The large building of the Globe Tobacco company, immediately adjoining, escaped material damage.

EARTHQUAKE AT SEA.

News of a New Island, or the Disappearance of One, Expected.SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—An earthquake at sea, as reported by incoming vessel, and hydrographic officers believe it was a gigantic oceanic eruption. The earthquake which occurred early in the morning of March 3 was preceded by a calm. The first tremor, in the form of a deafening roar, which seemed to rise out of the ocean. In an instant the ocean was tossed up into a mass of foam, rising in places in great geyser-like columns.It was stopped with a crash as if they had struck on a rock. The next day, or at least the next morning, the ocean was disappeared or one, is expected at the hydrographic office.

A NURSE SUICIDE.

That It Had Been Long Contemplated Is Indicated by His Will.NEW YORK, March 9.—Oscar Roth, formerly a nurse in Mount Sinai Hospital, committed suicide Friday. He was suffering from an incurable disease,and it is evident that he killed himself in order that those who have been caring for him might receive his life insurance.

He left a will dated early in December last, which reads as follows:

"I bequeath all my belongings to Harry and Katie Harris, my board and medical treatment, and I am to receive $2 a week for spending money. They are to take care of me for four months.If my death occurs within four months my body is to be cremated, and they are to pay all expenses."It is thought that both contemplated suicide when he wrote this will.

Not Ready for the Jews.

SHANGHAI, March 9.—The Japanese government has requested Li Hung-Chang, one of the Chinese peace envoys, to postpone his departure from China for a week, as it will not be ready to receive him until the 16th of the current month.

The Hotel Floated.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The North German Lloyd steamship Havel, Captain Langen, which went ashore on the north side of Gedney's channel, was safely floated after tugs had worked trying to get her off for nearly an hour.
The Havel is not much damaged by the midnight.The Lima Times-Democrat.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.A Phenomenon That Churchgoers Should Make a Note Of.NEW YORK, March 9.—Nature's frocks are rarely preceded by sufficient warning. Severe storms, great earthquakes and the usual atmospheric phenomenon almost always come insufficiently announced and work damage which might be averted if the exact time and nature of their coming were only subject to precise prediction.An eclipse of the moon is to take place Sunday evening, March 10, and the exact time of which will be accurately foretold every one who may have occasion to travel on country roads should remember that for an hour and a half during the evening the moon's rays will be withdrawn and only the feeble light of the stars will remain to light the way.

DREADFUL PSORIASIS

Covering Entire Body with White Scale. Burning Foul. Cured by Cutters.

My disease (psoriasis) don't break out on my left cheek, but it does on my nose, and it continues to do so. It is into my eyes, and the eyelids are afraid to open, and my hair is all foul, until I wash it. It spreads over my head, and my hair is all foul, until I wash it. It covers my body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The skin is very sensitive, and it comes from the hair, shoulders, and arms; the skin will thicken, and become crack and bleed. It scratches. After spending many hours in the Cutters' Remedy, incense, and the Cutters' Remedy, incense, using two bottles Cutters' Remedy, I could see a change and feel better. Then I had six bottles of Cutters' Remedy, one bottle of Cutters' Remedy, and six bottles of Cutters' Remedy, from which I still suffer. I cannot express it in words. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my skin.
